

Mille minutes de dessin

Aurélie Bousquet

This book is a choice: let yourself go to creation, the show, pleasure, pleasure, random. This book is a choice: give or take time to another choice. Mille minutes of drawing represents 200 sessions of drawing. For more than sixteen hours, you will draw an object, a self portrait, a landscape, but also things that have not happened, and in different ways. Original drawing program (no drawing or model), A thousand minutes of drawing is not a book to learn to draw in an academic way in order to do well, the respect of the proportions, the perspective, the realism but the performance in the long term, a test. Mille minutes of drawing is constituted A sum of moments: one of the moments is to arise from the ideas, the forms ... something, through the gesture and the look in the time.
